

Royal Palm Academy
Parent Volunteer Organization

The mission of the Parent Volunteer Organization (PVO) is to support the school in achieving its mission to provide the highest quality education for young people. The primary role of the PVO is to assist and support the school in organizing and implementing school activities, projects, events, and fundraising projects to promote the mission of the school.

In carrying out this role, the PVO helps to bring school families closer together in a Catholic environment through social, educational, and spiritual events. The PVO works to foster the spirit of working in service to God and each other.

There are numerous committees in which parents are encouraged to lend their time and talents. It is necessary for the good of the school and the students, that each family do their part to support the PVO efforts. All families are asked to commit to donating twenty-five volunteer hours during the school year to offset the need for additional operating expenses.

The responsibilities of the PVO President are as follows:

- Create a community of parent volunteers
- Provide time, talent, and treasure for various events throughout the school year
- Act as a liaison between the faculty and parents to facilitate communication
- Conduct PVO meetings as necessary
- Create events and opportunities to build the Royal Palm Academy community
- Establish room parents for each teacher and provide guidance as needed
- Provide a welcoming environment on campus
- Assist with fundraising and advancement
- Create a monthly PVO newsletter
